

Jon Stolzer of Canine Inc. Provides Tips On How To Introduce A New Dog To An Existing Pack In The Household

One of the happiest times for any dog owner is the day they bring their new dog home. The addition of a new canine can change a daily routine and even upset the other dogs you may have. If you take time to prepare yourself and your current pets, you can have a stress free transition. Here are a few tips by Expert Canine Behaviorist and Training Specialist, Jon Stolzer of Canine Inc., on how to introduce a new dog to an existing pack.

1. Get your dog familiar with the neutral territory first before introducing them to the existing pack.
2. Make sure you have someone who can control the current pack as well as someone who can control the new addition. Create the introduction with physical interaction such as nose to tail, nose to tail. This is the doggy handshake and is proper dog to dog interaction.
